Get up stand up, make a difference one shout is louder than a thousand whispers each breath bring death closer what breath u got left make the most of till your life is over see the time, life don't pause that record slow rewind, one time to hear that section hear opinions, but you gotta rule in your kingdom make choices that cause you to realise your vision you don't show it, but you can do it, blood I know it don't flow it but we still both thug poets raise my momma, nuff cut offs, gas and electrics certain birthdays and get shit, but it's cool mums forget it, your love, the only reason that I ain't asleep only reason that these pricks all be poppin' off clips got families and friends that IÂ'd lay down and die for forces in my head, but in my heart IÂ'm still for the life force

get up oh stand up
stand up and make a change
get up oh stand up now
get up and make a change woah however you hurtin', situation worsens by lack of earners system only workin' for certain persons a man'll get caught trynÂ'a keep the rent up but a paedophile 'll spend less time bent up next time you pick up blood, think of the consequences someone's daughter or son cracked out on park benches

can't do it i know, can't afford to have a soul cuz if you thinkin' you slippin' and not on ya toes genocide turned suicide, it's not coincidental no chains, but it's worse when the shackles are mental, scared to shine, self hate, breed like rabbits, feed abusive habits, and the situations get drastic kick in more, sure that it's soon to be you we enterinÂ', it's hard to be strong when the lifestyles so temptin', fat pockets getting money, grabbinÂ' hoes away but if we don't change today our kids grow the same way

get up oh stand up stand up get up and fight
don't just survive and live your life however hard shit gets, try and maintain focus cuz god always side with the most hate and the brokest I know there's a god cuz all the times I should of died impossible circumstance, somehow I survived plus there's the fact that the universe is the same blood circulates like we earth in the same time stars and cells born and I erase so you can't count body earth water solid exactly the same amount are everything, it's so insignificant earth not even cell sized compared to total existence eighteen years ago, I weren't even visible now I spit lyrical syllables through spiritual criminals nothin' worse than potential that remained hidden don't look back could of, would of, should of, to late I didn't while most of us struggle to strive for what we believe in imagine the strength of those who died for what they believe in

don't just survive
live your life, live your life
