A word is enough for beginning the war
They will always be willing to (awaken) her
With your baptized and chrismed guns
For them the war is the only way
But i and you are the victims
Same not making rhymes with critics
But open the eye, actually the third war is already happening

Do you don't see?

Is an American dream or Russian nightmare
That will put an end to our lives?
Only they know, only they decide

In the streets, boys, girls...
Hunger, anger, plague, attacks, accidents, addiction, suicide
Did the first and second kill more?
Is the third war

A word is enough for beginning the war
They will always be willing to (awaken) her
But i and you are the victims
Same not making rhymes with critics

Hunger, anger, plague, attacks, accidents, suicide

Cowards!!!
