Sitting at the evening beach
Listen to the wisp'ring sea
To a place I couldn't reach
For A Place Where I'll be free

Suddenly I saw your face
And my look, it is so freeze
But I can't remove my place
And I felt my trembling knees

I look so deep into your eyes
They're so beautiful and bright
I hope they tell me never lies
Because you are my burning light

Seeing blue and seeing grey
Every colour shows the way
Every time you change the hue
I hope you know, that I love you
