

Traumatic Voyage "Metaphysical"

A dark passage opens for mee...
Through the forgotten temples of religious order
Leaving those cities of light behind...
Where the sky is to far to see the stars... behind

In a neverland's dream...
In a neverland's dream...

A cold wind blows through my slowed room...
Another bizarre kind of possession begins...
And again I hear the crying voices of the buried human souls...
The dead should be quiet if they have nothing to say!

As I close my eyes again...
The ancient darkness behind the eyelid...
Overruns me with the unveiled eternity

The endless quest for a own heaven...
Ends always in the cruel abyss of a self-created hell

Forever you returning in dogmatic circles...
While you try to build your private nirvana
Infinity end with the blind acception of a limited reality!!!

I remember... it was a long, deep fall...
And on the other side of "reality"...
I hold the secrets of life in my hands... in my hands...

Metaphysical perception...
And with the dawn of insanity...
A new life-cycle begins...
In another reality!!!

And when the unknown awakes...
You're understanding will fall to ruins...
...Fall to ruins!!!

...And I will be the one...
