So far away from me
Somewhere in another world
Where death has no meaning
You, you sing a song
And wait for the first flame
I appear with fire
Heat is my touch
That awakes you with unrest

Burn down with my existence
And forever we shall be
Burn down with my existence
So again you will find me

I wait for your embrace
That you burn into my face
Like before I want you now
Only we are not the same
Meaningless to all

Burn down with my existence
And forever we shall be
Burn down with my existence
So again you will find me

I watch you through the fire
Why aren't you here
I'm losing touch with you
Turning off my breath
Forever you are gone
Only smoke remains
