

These Final Days

"I Feel Alive"

Walk along on these streets
all by yourself
only darkness has prevailed.

Dreams are scattered by the sea
with the pictures of you and me
and I feel like I could cry.

And I feel so alive
no place that I've wanted to hide
with no reason to try.

Just a hole to fill this time
why can't you see how I feel?
A blackened heart defines
a life that's become surreal.
What else is there now?

And I feel so alive
no place that I've wanted to hide
with no reason to try.
I feel like I should die,
if only just to please you.
I feel lost at this time.
