Breaking down my will
Leave me cold and silent
Your absence of emotion
Take away the light
Drain the source of virtue
Misusing my devotion
Breaking down my dream
Tear my soul asunder
Our god is of erosion
(Templets?) of despection
You enslave the healing light
Nothing sacred in your heart
You consume my hope and air
(Templets?) of despection
Heap of dreams like truth and right
Nothing sacred in your heart
He engraves the deepest of despair
Breaking down my will
Leave me cold and silent
Your absence of emotion
Take away the light
Drain the source of virtue
Misusing my devotion
Breaking down my dream
Tear my soul asunder
Our god is of erosion
(Templets?) of despection
You enslave the healing light
Nothing sacred in your heart
You consume my hope and air
(Templets?) of despection
Heap of dreams like truth and right
Nothing sacred in your heart
He engraves the deepest of despair
