Bright night city lights, paint the bedroom red and white

But all I want is to get something
You lying next to me, I try to feel the energy
But I don't find the answers I need.

I was the one who believed, we all have guardian angels
Find it so hard to believe, I see the eyes of a stranger

The moment I look at you

Wake up the duty calls the sun in loom it makes the walls

Silence is the languages we speak
Your late and hurry up, I see you vanish in the crowd
I feel the doubt that makes me so weak

I was the one who believed, we all have guardian angels
Find it so hard to believe, I see the eyes of a stranger

Nobody gets over his first love*2

I was the one who believed, we all have guardian angels
Find it so hard to believe, I see the eyes of a stranger

The moment I look at you*5
