I couldn't wait, she came in late,
She wasn't there, I didn't care.
I'm sinking low, where can I go?
Has no one got a bed to share?

I spent a night on the tiles.
A night on the tiles.

Here comes the day, what can I say,
She really knows that I've been cheating.
The night was long, she came on strong,
It's morning that we'll soon be greeting.

I spent a night on the tiles.
A night on the tiles.

If only I could lay with you by me,
I'd never leave your side again.
You'd make me feel a man and then...

She left for good, I knew she would.
There's nothing for me here at all.
Why did she go, I'll never know,
How come she had to be so cruel.

I spent a night on the tiles.
A night on the tiles.
