Going in to the smallest center
And peel away every layer
Just to look it deep in the eye
Going out to the deepest space
'Till there's no place left to hide
Just to fill it with my breath
The fact that there's no vacuum left
The stars and I will celebrate
I walk, I walk, yeah I walk the crooked and wide
Don't care if it's wrong
Don't care if it's right
Gonna turn every corner
Yeah, I know I'm going n circles
Just to see what's around the bend
I'm in no hurry to get to the end
Don't care if it's wrong Don't care if it's right
You can keep the straight and narrow

I walk, I walk, yeah I walk the crooked and wide
I won't take that well-worn path
Just the thought bores me to the marrow

Don't care if it's wrong
I don't care about no-one's wrath
I walk, I walk, yeah I walk the crooked and wide
Don't care if it's right
