Viktor my friend look out there's a million fingers
pointing at you.

From the coward in your head, to your stupid ugly friends, did you think I'd never hear about you?

You should be my princess bride.

I will show you the world and its dunes.

And if you wish to runaway I will find you my damsel gone frazzled.

Viktor my friend look out! there's a million other dimwits like you.

From the 1000 days at sea to your cherry jubilee, did you think I'd never hear about you?

You should be my princess bride.

I will show you the world and its dunes.

And if you wish to runaway I will find you my damsel
gone frazzled...Viktor!

Someday you will hide behind your glass of gaffes.

Enjoy your peace of mind cause I will have the last laugh.

Viktor my friend shut up! There's a million dollars counting on you.

From the saddle you were raised to your apricot face,
did you think I'd never hear about you?

You should be my princess bride.

I will show you the world and its dunes.

And if you wish to runaway I will find you my damsel
gone frazzled...Viktor!

Someday you will hide behind your glass of gaffes.

Enjoy your peace of mind cause I will have the last laugh.
