We've come here from so far away
I can save you
If you leave it all behind
This suffering's been far too long
Would you take a trip with me
On the back of a star
I feel like earth's gravity is just here to pull us down.

Mother of creation wait and embrace the souls of a lost world
Carry them away
Darkness negative receptive
Pour firmament between our waters
Separate the space
Mother of destruction wait with a belt of
Skulls strap me down
And send the ship away
Progress with the process mine the souls
From their casts
Poor form and reshape

This dark womb
Wraps and covets me
Redefining understanding if you open
Up the heart
Nurturing this phenomenon
We can carry you on our wings
Through the dark
"lightning flashes of insight
Into the mirth of a dark sky
Pain of division is nothing
Joy of dissolution is everything

Mother of creation wait and embrace the souls of
a lost world
Carry them away
Darkness negative receptive
Pour firmament between our waters

Separate the space
Mother of destruction wait with a belt of
Skulls strap me down
And send the ship away
Progress with the process
From their casts
Poor form and reshape

Portal sits deep within the eye
The eye of yin's severity
Rewards understanding

Blackness consumes body comforts core of Nothing...

Mother I can remember a vault of security
Can you take me away
Would you take me away
Won't you take me away
...Away
