The ground is burnt, the sky is black
Now you wait for Death's attack
Thought you'd never see this day
As your flesh just melts away
Weapons that were built for peace
Nuclear breath and the flesh it eats
Surviving the only way you can
Enslaving what's left of fellow man
Inhale the Mist that you've created
The cells in your life are invaded
Surviving in a manmade Hell
In this rot you must dwell
Rape this corpse we call the Earth
Human life has no worth
Violence will not betray
Building in technologies praise
Searching, seizing just for food
Cannibalistic hunters brood
Rotting plants and rancid meat
Scientific Hell brought feast
Inhale the Mist that you've created
The cells in your life are invaded
Surviving in a manmade Hell
In this waste you must dwell
Dwell.....

Dwell.....
Death is coming, theirs no running
As you stand you rot away
The Earth she is crying, all is dying
All the living pray for their Death
Your last rites have now been given
Your existence slowly ends
Dust and ruin they remind us
Of a world, Full of breath
Forming Hoards to rule this land
Engineering forced command
Elimination of the weak
Taking charge before they speak
Colonies built of Hate
To savor peace is far to late
Primal instincts teach us how

Godz of power to they bow
Inhale the Mist that you've created
The cells in you life are invaded
Surviving in a manmade Hell
In this rot you must dwell
In this waste you must dwell
Surviving in a manmade Hell
The cells in you life are invaded
Inhale the Mist that you've created
