"Take Me Up To Higher Ground"

and let me feel the cold wind blow above the demonic mountainside beholding creations of ice
The screams echoes eternally
As the snow keep falling down Through this freezing night
I hear the ravens call

I want to see these mountains
These mountains that I know Where demons and ravens fly circling the tall mountainside the winterstorm is growing stronger as I glance towards the sky once again the memories streams through my elder veins
