Wake up my friend, it's time to die
I've got to take you to your eternal rest

It'll sure feel strange not having you around
I'm going to miss you but it's my job to take your life

There is no way, to change the facts
That you are going to die
Do you have any last requests??
Anything is possible except for mercy

The time has come, to meet your destiny

The last moment in life, with a bag over your head Your life begins to fade as you're passing through the shadows of death
Soon you'll have the answer to what hides behind the realms (of death)

Upright infinity
Death in a chair
Paying the price
For your mistakes

Upright infinity
Sentenced to fry
Death in a chair
Meet your destiny
