"Wake Up Call"

tough times, well they come and go but somehow this time that isn't so I've got too much time to think of the things that I've lost this city, it used to be fun, and I felt so free but now that she's gone its been so lonely I'm finding it harder to breath

(chorus)

when will i wake up and open my eyes this feeling takes up too much of my time is she really worth it, I don't know all I want is to talk with her then she'd find this was all a mistake and leave it behind and never think of this again I turn on the radio for advice this song's on, it's asking the same questions that I've got but it's good to know that I'm not alone

'cause I dream of standing in a pay phone just blocks from her house and i said, "hey girl, won't you come out?
I don't expect you to let me in I know you never let anyone in" the she looked out her window down past the rain and she said, "don't move I can't lose you again" the sounds of that phone falling as she came running towards me but before she got there I was awake and she was not there I couldn't take the emptiness that found me the loneliness surrounds me again

is she really worth it, I don't know I don't want to wake up so I close my eyes tight, and i try to go back it was a long night, but I couldn't go back I only dreamt of falling it's when i dreamt of falling that I'd wake up
