I woke this morning to another sunny day.
Looking out the window, Filled with renew dreams.
looking through a window pane of some old,
some new dreams.

Wished for sun got a thunder storm. He wanted a thunderstorm. I got a whole lot of numbness, my heart is feeling like pins and needles instead. I was hoping you were my shining North star. I got a hot one instead. Shooting and destroying others lives with love from your mind.

No more of his lies and no more of her alibies. Tasting the sweetness of fresh air.
Having been to rome only in my mind.
Wishing for fresh mountain air and a heliport
for those voluteer friends of mine.

Thought I was walking on stones. Found I was walking on hot coals. Thought it was real love, found it all was disconnection. Illusions, lies and alibies scares left on many familys' souls.

No more of his lies and no more of her alibies. Tasting the sweetness of fresh air.
Having been to rome only in my mind.
Wishing for fresh mountain air and a heliport
for those voluteer friends of mine.

Moving forward on the lakes of life. Looking for babbling brooks instead of raging rivers.
Hoping for the sky, anticapating a cloud.
Holding a cloud to feel that rain on a new sunny day.

No more of his lies and no more of her alibies. Tasting the sweetness of fresh air.
Having been to rome only in my mind.
Wishing for fresh mountain air and a heliport
for those voluteer friends of mine.

I have seen one of a true slendor with in the visions in my head.Seen little girls in the mountains on ponys.
Cried like a baby over the lost of my communtiy programs.

No funds to help our community.Heard fire trucks over the lost of a womans family.Her angels died in a fire on that dread night.

Wrapped in a blanket,standing in the cold winter air, as the fort edward fire department were fighting for their lives.Children to young to die,angels they were given to her
from above.She will spend her life with out I love yous and good night lalabies for the angels taken from her on that fatefull night.

Tears she will cry.Only words of encouragment can be offered.
Her soul ripped out from her heart.Angels taken from
her
on a dread night.
