When you were a tadpole and I was a fish
When the whole world had barely begun
I saw you swim by with a smile in your eye
And I loved you from that moment on.

And through all the changes from fins into fingers
I longed for the day you would be
The sweet loving person you've finally become
From that faraway day in the sea

And my first wish
That you'd love me too, 'cause I've loved you
Since you were a tadpole and I was a fish
I'm so glad that you love me too, 'cause I've loved you
Since you were a tadpole and I was a fish.
