I want somebody to tell me why there's always smoke
up in the sky
Please don't make me want to cry, detail has not been seen
Summer trees should all be green, plain and green as they have been Sun don't ever change the scene, please never let them die

What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?

Sounds which soar above my ears, will naturally precede in years
They only cause a flood of tears, I want to turn and run
Don't need someone to make my fun, only need to see the sun
I will not go and cause the harm, I cannot think that way

What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?

Sit spellbound by a flickering screen, watch the ever changing scenes
Listen to the rising screams of children of today
Lock your doors and stay within, upon your face the stupid grins
The penalty for unrealized sins committed on your way

What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?

What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?

What do you want?
What do you want?
What do you want?
