when you look into my eyes what will be your final words as i slit your throat?
its times like this that i will never regret

the blood drips
it makes music to my ears

you can be afraid of anything just remember: be afraid of me when i look into your eyes take a breath..... cause this will be your last

just let me lie by myself into these ashes, my body and the concrete crashes but right before we die let me apologize for bringing you into my life you should have never hurt me so say goodbye
