Maria's mixing up the poison in the bathroom Combines blue and green and brown and black and red
She puts it on the doorstep of her neighbor Whose feet transmit the poison to her heart in the shape of a cross
The bone grinds into her skin the blood starts circling in her heart
The poison's sinking in The blood in her body is changing
The capillaries are spreading the disease
Her blood starts to flow her heartbeat's getting low
She starts to feel nothing
