The frozen wander
Through the nordic lands
On the frosted fields
In the iced meadows

Through snowstricken forests
Past shimmering evergreens
Like diamonds glister
In deepest velvet bed

It is the night of the wolf
Embedded in nightfall
Its eyes, the stars
And its fur, the moon
It is the night of the wolf
Embedded in nightfall
Its eyes, the stars
And its fur, the moon

The purest white
Unstained in its pride
In chaotic symmetry
Clad in brightness

A thick sheet of chill
And a mist in the morning sun
Glittering on a solid rock
Chasing the shadows away
