(lunchroom scene)

Aiyo, save me, save me a seat, yo

Yo, ain't no skippin in line

Ain't no skippin in line!

You can't skip in the line

Get off me, man!

Mr. Hightower, Mr. Hightower...

Yo, where my man M-o at?

Yo yo!

Yo, what's up, yo?

Come over this way, yo

Hit that beat for me one time, you know how we do

(Mondo starts banging on the table)

[Vex]

Uh, Black Hole Sun, Vortex

Six million ways to die, I choose none

Vortex got demons on the run

Vortex out to slay Satan before the day is done

Vortex, I'm like brave Grandmasters of kung-fu flicks

Movin words of perfection in every direction

Convection heats up the microphone I freeze

When I bust Jehova bring breeze to a gust

Thrust my rhyme through the woofers and the tweeters of your speakers

Sound is below zero

The mic's two tons in my hand on the ground

I lift it to my brain, no strain, let it snow brimstone when I rain

I'm vertical, move it in nautical miles of styles

Volatile vocal (?) bionics moving physical bodies with third eye

Grandmaster of intellectual power, how much can a black hole devour

All that's in the world with my gravity

7 point in my brain, poke this through your chest cavity

Rhymes get complicated when they activated

The devil hesitated, in battle got designated, now I made it

To the top of Mount Zion, holy Mount Zion

(?) they banter, soldiers of (?)

I be generatin on my energy like gamma
 Just wanna kick a rhyme like my grandma
 Let that lyric through your dome
 Travelling through your veins and your brain
 I'm Jah cyclone
 So as I conject a microphone dissector
 Bring it back, wheel it up, selector
 Ha-ha, ha-ha
 Yeah

 [teacher]
 You little rugrats get out of here this instant
 Lunch is over!
