And everything that mattered to me is now gone
This feeling is nothing yet it feels so strong
Now I've falling so fast i can't see the light
I see the line start to blur between wrong and right
I know it's all fake just a way to escape
I can't even wait cuz it might be too late
I know I did this to myself it's what I wanted to be
Now take a closer look and tell me what you see

Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
