It's everything that I can do right now
To not think about you moving further off
With every passing second
Every night of this lonely summertime
I feel it missing from my heart
A part was kicked back from my soul
Well I can hardly wait
Until I get the sun and your lips both pressing on my skin
Well I can hardly wait
Until I feel that thrill in my heart that starts inside your eyes
And the song in my head that burns so good on my tongue
Yes I will
Yeah yeah
Yes I will
The night is ending as the sun warms your face
Won't you turn around and stay for good
The air is getting much to cold
I am nervous and anxious
It really counts this time
You know all my favorite singers
Have stolen all of my best lines
Well I can hardly wait
Until I get the sun and your lips both pressing on my
skin
Well I can hardly wait
Until I feel that thrill in my heart that starts inside your
eyes
And the song in my head that burns so good on my
tongue
Yes I will
Yeah yeah
Yes I will
Yeah yeah
Someday I'll burn this bed
Only two feet wide
Where I'll hide
For the next 17 days
I will ask myself how badly do I want this?

I really want this

Well I can hardly wait

Until I get the sun and your lips both pressing on my skin

Well I can hardly wait

Until I feel that thrill in my heart that starts inside your eyes

And the song in my head that burns so good on my tongue

Yes I will

Yeah yeah

Yes I will

Yeah yeah

Yes I will
