

Cya "We Ought To"

Visit "We Ought To" on MotoLyrics.com

I overheard a conversation
Down at the diner tonight
A boy told a girl she was his whole world
And he'd love her till the end of time

It reminded me of you, and the thought went through my head
That sounds like something you should've said

I took myself out to a movie
Saw a man on the silver screen
Tell the woman he loved for just one touch
He would do anything

It reminded me of you, and the thought went through
my head
That sounds like something you should've said

You never let me know the way you felt
And I don't understand why
The longest talk we ever had
Was when I said goodbye

I heard a song playing on the jukebox
A singer pouring out his soul
And every word he sang was filled with pain
That he'd ever let his lady go

It reminded me of you, and the thought went through
my head
That sounds like something you should've said
That sounds like something you should've said

Visit Cya page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.