Here I am
Your one-trick pony
Messing up your life

When I'd call
My lack of conversation
Made you laugh and smile

You were kind
When nobody else was
You were kind, always

Everyone would choose death
Than be mistaken as my friend
But you held me like a trophy

And when I left
Had you truly known?
That you were my best friend

I was feeling so down
Then you came around and understood
I was feeling so down
Then you came around and found my self-worth
