She used words like
this and stuff and whatever and dot dot dot well, I'm sorry but I like to think of what we had as a little bit more than these misplaced English words you're using that only serve to make me sad and confused
and belittled
and make me seem so trivial be civil, girl!
your vocabulary was so vast I even bought a 300,000-word dictionary to keep up with your...
but now you break it all down with ambiguous words like
this and stuff and whatever and dot dot dot what in the world were you thinking, little lady?
you're acting so stinkin shady!
but I'm not going to think about it.
Moving along...next poem.
I'm sorry, I have to talk about it some more it's my personality
it's how I was born
I keep digging holes in the dirt to place this hurt but it won't go away it just won't stay away
I just don't understand.
I just don't get it, man and I guess I never will.
Because my dictionary doesn't contain the cheap words you use to make me so ill.
I want to give you a hug.
I want us to walk and talk in a park while watching doves.
I want us to carry on in a platonic love but you don't want to...
so we won't.
Next poem.
