

Caleb Collins

"Nobody Told Me"

Visit "Nobody Told Me" on MotoLyrics.com

Nobody told me, the rain was gonna fall this hard Nobody told me I would feel such pain
And nobody explained to me, the things these eyes would see
That would break my heart, in two

Nobody told me, that I would have to wait this long Nobody told me how much I'd cry
But had somebody explained to me, how lonely this would be,
Oh it may have scared my fragile heart away

So with a million miles behind me,
and the road beneath my shoes
I've come too far to think about,
the pair I didn't choose

And I can finally say I'm happy
After all these years

And now I'm kinda glad
Nobody told me

Nobody told me, that this life was so unfair
Nobody told me sometimes there's not a choice And nobody explained to me, how bright the lights
would be
And how much I'd have to learn to love myself

So with a million miles behind me,
and the road beneath my shoes
I've come too far to think about,
the pair I didn't choose

And I can finally say I'm happy
After all these years
And now I'm kinda glad, now i'm kinda glad, now i'm kinda glad
Nobody told me, Nobody told me

