

Don Dudding

"The Dinosaur Song"

Visit "The Dinosaur Song" on MotoLyrics.com

They're all dead! They're all dead! The Dinosaurs are all dead.

They woke up one morning and couldn't get out of bed.
And now the dinosaurs are all dead.

They're all dead! They're all dead! The Dinosaurs are all dead.

You needn't go worry 'bout them stompin' on your head.

And now the dinosaurs are all dead.

They're all dead! They're all dead! The Dinosaurs are all dead.

They left widows of everyone they wed.
And now the dinosaurs are all dead.

They're all dead! They're all dead! The Dinosaurs are all dead.

You can put them in your fuel tank and mix them with lead.

And now the dinosaurs are all dead.

They're all dead! They're all dead! The Dinosaurs are all dead.

They wouldn't fit neatly 'tween two slices of bread.
And now the dinosaurs are all dead.

They're all dead! They're all dead! The Dinosaurs are all dead.

You can go ask Barney or go ask Fred.
And now the dinosaurs are all dead.

They're all dead! They're all dead! The Dinosaurs are all dead.

They were under-loved and under-fed.
And now the dinosaurs are all dead.

Visit Don Dudding page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.