When I was younger feeling small when I laid my hands in yours
I felt the sadness fade and disappear.
When my heart would fall and break
I just looked up at your face the smile you gave me brought me back to him.
The only place i knew where i will be save.

Under your Wings, I am forever
Under your open skies I saw
because your love for me was everything I needed to be strong im always home..under your wings.

In another place and time

how the memories rewind back to my father who hold me in his arms oh and I knew that I was loved for who I was no matter what the smile he gave me we would never be apart.

Under your Wings I am forever
Under your open skies I saw
because your love for me was everything
I needed to be strong I
