"Hidin' Out"

People point us out and shake their heads in shame, in gossip circles we are talked about Darling, on you I hold no legal claim, but here we are again hidin' out
The kisses that you give make our wrong seems so right, it's too late to stop, there's no doubt We said we wouldn't meet tonight, my dear, but here we are again hidin' out
The ones we're tied to we know we'll hurt, my dear, though we're hoping they don't find us out Sooner or later, we know we'll be caught, but here we are again hidin' out
