I cried all the way to the altar, a smile was on my face but tears were in my heart

Two hearts broken and a third will soon falter; now, too late, I know that we were wrong to part

Oh, my darling, now, too late, we can't go back and start anew

Now too late I've thrown away my chance of happiness with you

I cried all the way to the altar; now, too late, I know that we were wrong to part

Take a calendar and turn back all the pages, take my life, turn back each day since I was born
