"When You Need a Laugh"

You can't imagine how it hurts me,
To have you treat me like you do.
Knowing that my love is,
Just a joke to you.
But I'll take it just to see you,
And laugh as teardrops fall.
So when you need a laugh,
Give me a call.

Everybody says I'm crazy,
To let you treat me this way.
But I can't explain,
So what else can I say?
At least I'm on your mind,
When you're laughing.
Somehow that breaks the fall.
So when you need a laugh,
Give me a call.

I'd gladly trade the laugh you get,
For making fun of me.
To be around the one I love,
And need so desperately,
So even if the laugh's on me,
I don't mind at all.
So when you need a laugh,
Give me a call.

So when you need a laugh,
Give me a call.
