I think we've reached the point Where I can say anything And when you start to stray I will stay I wont go away I've given up my hopes And my dreams for yours Cause You're a part of me And I want you to succeed Cause you mean more to me than being with you And you mean more to me than being with you And you mean more to me than being with you And you mean more to me I've lost myself in the days Since I last saw your face I've found nothing but fear Since you first disappeared I'm trying to hold back Everything Cause only love knows When to go all in I left all of my fears In Jesus hands Sometimes you have to Give it up to give it all away Only love knows when to go all in
