"Another Day"

In a world which on turning
With a hope of another day A love that kept the good times we were just kids at play

And through the warm of the summer sun or a chill from the winter breeze We have too much fun and now its just a memory.

And now we must go on and go our separate ways
with the strength of our past teaching we can bring another day woooh.
I know its time to let you go
One last chance to let you know
Even though we're far apart
You will always be in my heart
I know its time to say goodbye
so many reasons at this time.
So many memories inside.
so many tears in my eyes
As another day passes by.

So here we are On last chance to give I know we will make it through as long as we stand by each other

All our dreams will come true as long as love another day I another try to make it through another chance for me and you.

And now we must go on
and go our separate ways
with the strength of our past teaching
we can bring another day woooh.
I know its time to let you go
One last chance to let you know
Even though we're far apart
You will always be in my heart

I know its time to say goodbye
so many reasons at this time.
So many memories inside.
so many tears in my eyes
As another day passes by.
