Look what the cat drug in Can't believe how long it's been
Good to see an old best friend, girl look at you
Last time I talked to Carrie
She said you got remarried
Life moves so fast it's scary, who knew
Let me buy you another round of caffeine
Let's catch up and reminisce, pretend we're still sixteen

Ain't it amazing how we just pick up where we left off
Like no time slipped away
It's crazy the whole world's changed around us
But nothing's changed between us
Ain't it strange
How you walk in and it's just like yesterday

That spring break driving back
Bare feet on the dash
Of your daddy's old green Pontiac, remember
Double dates and senior prom
That summer you lost your mom
Never met anyone as strong as you were
We put miles between us chasing our own stars
You went off to college and I bought my first guitar

Ain't it amazing how we just pick up where we left off
Like no time slipped away
It's crazy the whole world's changed around us
But nothing's changed between us
Ain't it strange
How you walk in and it's just like yesterday

I hope it won't be another five years till I see you again
But even if it is ain't it good to know we'll always be this close

Ain't it amazing how we just pick up where we left off
Like no time slipped away
It's crazy the whole world's changed around us
But nothing's changed between us
Ain't it strange

How you walk in and it's just like yesterday
How you walk in and it's just like yesterday
It's just like, just like, just like yesterday
It's just like, just like yesterday
