I'm tired of feeling everything and no one listening
That all changes in this moment
I'm setting my mind free
You're damn right that I have changed
Nothing stands in my way
You don't like this but you know it
Just can't stay the same

I won't be Castellated, won't be Castellated
Won't be Castellated, stuck inside my mind
Silence kills all life, there's no reason why
I should stay inside

These words lasted centuries
Forever trapped inside of me
Now they've found a way out
Of their secrecy, this is me and that's all I've been trying to be

That's all I've been trying to be...

So don't sit there and complain about something you helped create
You changed me and now I'm better than the being you used to hate
Strength and faith and self-respect are my weaponry
Done with all this, now I'm free and I finally listen to me

I won't be Castellated, won't be Castellated
Won't be Castellated, haunted by the truth
Shredded and confused, I have been renewed I'm gonna make it through

These words lasted centuries
Forever trapped inside of me
Now they've found a way out
Of their secrecy, this is me and that's all I've been trying to be

This is me (x8)
Don't say you've changed at all now
I see your hidden games

You want to control me but that won't work
Cuz I have found the strength
I'm unafraid of you now
I have found my voice

These words lasted centuries
Forever trapped inside of me
Now they've found a way out
Of their secrecy, this is me and that's all I've been trying to be
