It's not what you do but it's what you've already done
Cried so many tears but now babe it's your turn to run
Drenched in shame, people know your name
Looks to me like you just lost your own game

So say farewell
I've finally cracked your shell
Quit blaming someone else
You'll never find your self

Looks to me like you're lonely
You'll never find your soul
Looks to me like your wondering
Where in this world you'll go
You knock on every door trying to find out why
You'll never save yourself from living a Haunted life

Don't look around cuz there ain't no one to see
You're finally fading out into an awful memory
Cut to black now the nightmare is done
There's no happy ending, no babe, not in this one

So say farewell
They're calling you in Hell
Don't look for someone else
You're Haunted by yourself

Looks to me like you're lonely
You'll never find your soul
Looks to me like your wondering
Where in this world you'll go
You knock on every door trying to find out why
You'll never save yourself from living a Haunted life

Now it's time to say farewell
I've finally broken your spell
Don't go blaming someone else
It's your fault you're by yourself

Now it's time to say farewell
I've finally broken your spell
Don't go blaming someone else

It's your fault you're by yourself

Looks to me like you're lonely
You'll never find your soul
Looks to me like your wondering
Where in this world you'll go
You knock on every door trying to find out why
You'll never save yourself from living a Haunted life

Looks to me like you're lonely
You'll never find your soul
Looks to me like your wondering
Where in this world you'll go
You knock on every door trying to find out why
You'll never save yourself from living a Haunted life

Looks to me like you're helpless
Frozen inside your hole
Looks to me like your selfish ways
Got you on your own
You blamed so many trying to Cover your tracks that's why
You're doomed and cursed to never escape from your Haunted life
