When the night is cold and dark
I will be the one to call sun
I will I will
And when the star is blowing in
I will block the wind until it's done
I will I will

And when life knocks you down
I will catch you when you fall
I will answer when you call
I'll always lend a hand when you need a friend
My love will never get old
It's better than silver, silver and gold
Yeah oh
My love will never get old
It's better than silver, silver and gold

And when life gets hard
I will be the cushion where you lay
I will I will
And when this journey gets you blurry eyed
I will lead the rest of the way
I will I will

And when life knocks you down
I will catch you when you fall
I will answer when you call
I'll always lend a hand when you need a friend
My love will never get old
It's better than silver, silver and gold
Yeah oh
My love will never get old
It's better than silver, silver and gold

You will never need to look further than me
Cause I'll be there to give you everything you will need

And when life knocks you down
I will catch you when you fall
I will answer when you call
I'll always lend a hand when you need a friend

My love will never get old
It's better than silver, silver and gold
Oh oh
My love it never gets old
It's better than silver, silver and gold
