Oh baby, can I change my mind, long ago you left me

You think I would have listened, when you said to me
To get my life together or you would leave
But now that you're gone the story begins
It's the ending of the end of an endless and

Looking back I was bringing you down
But now im changing my life
You said when I make a change I could stop on by Now im back and I cant live without you

[Chorus]

If you cant have the one you love
Then where are you going
In your life
If you can have the person in your life
Then where are you headed in your life

I know you still rember all of the times

I had you waiting by the telephone
And never came on the line
But now I got myself together
And finally understand
This time I'll take your heart in the palm of my hand

Looking back I was bringing you down
But now im changing my song
You said when I change I could come back home
Now im back and I cant live without you

[Chorus]

Girl its time I tell you something and it might sound strange
Like the weather everyday its true that people change you gotta help me run this race before I pass us by
I think it's time we try this love again just one more time

[Chorus]
