Fall Down - written by Kenny Mehler

Do you remember what you told me
Two years from when I died
You said you would always be there
It seems that you have lied
I trust you get the point now
Our time is running out
The distance between you and I
Is the best for me right now

Now I know what is going on
What's the difference between right and wrong
Now it seems to me...that I can't see
And that's why I fall down

All those times are gone now
Those ways have disappeared
The silence in your voice now
Is the thing that I have feared
Than why do I keep standing here
Alone and by myself
It's the reason why I'm heading nowhere
It's time to let go now...

Now I know what is going on
What's the difference between right and wrong
Now it seems to me...that I can't see
And that's why I fall down

Do you remember what you told me
Two years from when I died
You said you would always be there
It seems that you have lied
I trust you get the point now
Our time is running out
The distance between you and I
Is the best for me right now

Now I know what is going on
What's the difference between right and wrong
Now it seems to me...that I can't see

It's because of you... what I have to do
And that's why I fall down
that's why I fall down
that's why I fall down
