Here we go again I'm picking up the pieces
I'm all alone busy staring at the ceiling
I know, this could have been the reason
But I have exactly what your searching for

He gave me the keys to the back porch door
He told me to hide it behind the rock,
But I need more time
I bet you can tell...
Part of the reason is I know that I can see you on the other side now

I've got...
A reason to hold my head up and now
You've got...
To save it for a rainy day
It's not...
Just another one goes by the way side and now
You've got to learn on your own

Leave it up to me... I won't let you down
If it takes a 100 years... they can't knock me down
Look around to left or the right... and see who's laughing now
And it's all because...
Part of the reason is I know that I can see you on the other side now

Now I'm sitting here thinking about my life
Do you remember the time when I wouldn't even think twice
It's hard when... anyone can see that...
I'm in over my head... can you help me out

Now I'm back and I think you got the picture
I gave you question and you couldn't even find the answer
Just sit back, catch your breath for a moment
I think your mistaking the point that I'm making

I've got...

A reason to hold my head up and now
You've got...
To save it for a rainy day
It's not...
Just another one goes by the way side and now
You've got to learn on your own

Leave it up to me... I won't let you down
If it takes a 100 years... they can't knock me down
laughing now
And it's all because...
Part of the reason is I know that I can see you on the other side now
