Murder in a Small town

Words and music by John Bassett

(verse)

Murder in a small town, some don't wanna see, an empty worthless soul in a land of poverty

Lets decorate our children with dreams they can't achieve

Lets raise a jar and drink to one and all

Don't you go outside, unless your armed to the teeth, theres a renegade warfare on the corner of your street
The gods smile down upon those who think revenge is sweet

Lets raise a jar and drink to one and all

(chorus)

The road is so long, for miles and miles i'll sing this song, tell me where did I go wrong

Hit below the belt, climb the ladder, turn the page, you got a pay increase, buy yourself a guilded cage, lock yourself inside with your pension for old age

Lets raise a jar and drink to one and all

(chorus)

The road is so long, for miles and miles i'll sing this
