you had my heart
from the start
i must have been high that day
all you do is lie
cause you've got nothing else to say

like i said before
i don't need you anymore
all you've done is caused me harm
this is it
it's the alarm

i see you come
i see you go
you've got nothing to hide nothing to show
i see you here with that look again but i know your lying this is the end
so don't go creeping in to my thoughts anymore
this is it...
i've closed the door

the alarm has rung
you've been thrown out
so now when people ask what i've been talkin about i'll just say... i must have been high on you that day
