You never told me
What was wrong or what was right
You never told me
Why you couldn't sleep at night
I know you've heard this before
But I'll say it once more
You've done all you can
And you can't do any more
But that's alright
'Cause I'll just wait and see
Till you realize
You never told me

You never told me
You never you never
You never told me

And I know that things have changed
As I know they always do
And I know we're not the same
To think we were I was a fool
But I never thought I'd see
Even in my darkest dream
'Cause full circle will remain
The most unkindest cut of all

You never told me
Why you were never around
You never told me
Why you were so popular in town
I know that it's true
That the damage is done
That you wasted my time
While you were out having fun
But that's alright
'Cause I'll just wait and see
That you realize
You never told me

But you left me every sign
So obvious for all to see
But I turned and looked away

'Cause I could not bare the thought
So I shifted all the blame
So it didn't hurt so much
Now the weight is crushing me
I've got to rise and push it off

You never told me
Why you left and went away
You never told me
That this would happen to me today
I know now that you're gone
I'm feeling so good
I always thought you'd leave
But never knew you would
But that's alright
That you realize
You never told me
