Allies fire in the Sky
Splinters in the eye
Don't know any better
Keep your arsenal at bay
Live another day
Pull yourself together
Every war you want to win
There's nothing to defend
Nothing to surrender
I don't want to fight alone
No one does

Hey, look high and we look low
We never find our enemy
We never find our enemy
Somehow this war is out of control
We never find our enemy
We're gunning down whatever breathes

Last try, cross enemy lines
Look out for the mines

Buried in the mirror
Fall out, target's on the move
Coming into view
Coming in clearer
By now, there's no one else around
Narrowing it down
I guess I got to figure
One war is all I can afford
No more

Hey, look high and we look low
We never find our enemy
We never find our enemy
Somehow this war is out of control
We never find our enemy
We're gunning down whatever breathes

There we go
Wasting lives one way or another
There we go

Vacant eyes rearranging their color
