Racing on a fault line
Bracing for a landslide
Conscious of every move getting harder
Has the race gone underwater?

I keep stalling out, I just can't keep up
There's alarming doubt, am I good enough?
But you keep coming around to convince me
It's still far from over, oh

I keep stalling out, I just can't keep up
There's alarming doubt, am I good enough?
But you keep coming around to convince me
It's still far from over, oh

I keep stalling out, I just can't keep up
There's alarming doubt, am I good enough?
But you keep coming around to convince me
It's still far from over, oh

We are still far, we are still far
We are still far from over
We are still far, we are still far
We are still far from over

We are still far, we are still far
We are still far from over
We are still far, we are still far
We are still far from over

We are still far, we are still far
We are still far from over
We are still far, we are still far
We are still far from over

We are still far
