I fought it back - the times that left me blind I fought it back - but winds are so unkind it's always there - behind my hopeless smiles you're always there - 'till the day I die

I fought it back - but only on borrowed time I fought it back - but only for a little while
it's in your stare it's in the air that I can't bear sometimes I wish that you could see the pain that you feed sometimes I really wish you could bleed for me again

sometimes I really wish you could see the snakes that crawls on me sometimes I really wish I could flee from you again
