

Loveless "Slipping"

how far you are - your eyes so lit you were my star - you were my bliss all said and done - here as we part the dark keeps falling - upon my heart

the road lies open wide
but everything seems to die in these hands yeah the road lies open wide and I lie awake tonight, oh come sweet death the dusk of hope - in a dawn of tears in pain I choke - for years and years i'll toss and turn - in this twilight burn black unholy flame

never to speak - never to hear - never to hold you again never to see - never to touch - never to feel you again
